Lethbridge Won Double Header.

Medicine Hat, July 24.—The home team are clean out of form. They lost two games to Lethbridge today, showing weakness in all branches of the play, making nine errors in one game and eight in the other. In the first game, Schuch, the Lethbridge pitcher, was so wild that he was taken off, and Fogarty put on in the third, after which there was an improvement in the pitching. Fogarty pitched the second game also. Hollis pitched the first game for the Hatters, and Barrett started the second, but was hit too hard and Works was put on.

Calgary Play Here August 2

There will be a great game of lacrosse here on August 2, when the Calgary team will try to lower the Strathcona colors. No two better matched teams could be found in the province, as was shown when at Calgary they played for thirty minutes without either side being able to score. It is probable that one of these two teams will be provincial champions, and their meeting is sure to attract a large crowd of spectators.

Died Together

St. Francis, Ont., July 24.—Bodies of two drowned on Sunday last at Rainy Lake were discovered yesterday. The woman had her arms around the man's neck. The correct name of the woman is Mabel Maud Whelan, a resident of International Falls. The funeral takes place today at International Falls cemetery.

An Unpleasant Incident

Ottawa, July 24.—An unpleasant incident occurred here while the mayor was busy escorting the British journalists round the city. Some one took upon himself to order the United States flag to float in front of the city hall. It was an immense banner and showed prominently all over the decorations which are being put up for the Old Bore reunion. The incident caused intense indignation, the same thing having happened on a former occasion. The mayor being notified he had it at once taken down. Reported that a body of young men is being organized to tear down all the American flags in the city.

Burned by Molten Wax

Winnipeg, July 24.—After a long period of terrible agony, caused by being burnt about the limbs, Mrs. Thomas Macene, of Emerson, succumbed to her injuries in the hospital. Mrs. Macene who is 72 years of age, was engaged in making the floor of Emerson church July 8, and while attending to the job over which the wax was being heated, upset the utensil containing the wax and spilled the liquid over herself.

Photographers in Convention

Toronto, July 24.—The Canada Photographers' Association in convention here took up the question of the establishment of a labor bureau as a means of mutual protection and benefit. Help is hard to obtain and photographers are marks for the professional beggars. Roy, of Peterboro, told of paying a Toronto man's fare to Peterboro from Ontario, fixing him up with money and clothes and being deserted by the "new man" next day.

The company system of soliciting business was condemned and the copyright law discussed. The opinion was expressed that newspapers have altogether too much latitude in regard to the use of photographers' work.

Grand Trunk Adding to Rolling Stock

Montreal, July 24.—The Grand Trunk Railway has during the past year purchased $7,000,000 worth of rolling stock. Of this fifty passenger coaches appear for $720,000, 100 engines for $1,500,000, 5,000 freight cars for $4,420,000. With the delivery of these which are fast approaching completion, the C.T.R. hopes to be able to maintain some traffic congestion, against which so many complaints have been made recently.

Japan and Korea

Seoul, Korea, July 24.—It is understood that the proposal of Japan with which Viscount Hayashi was charged was presented to the Korean cabinet by Marquis Ito, which met at 10 o'clock this morning, under a Japanese guard. The ministers debated until 4 o'clock in the afternoon when Premier Iwaning together with the minister of war, presented the new plan of government of the state to the Emperor in the palace returning to the cabinet meeting within two hours. It is understood that the Japanese proposal contained a demand that the security of the throne be revolutionary, and the fact that the audience of the cabinet members with the Emperor was brief, is believed to be evidence of the consternation of the court.

Rushing the Grade

Winnipeg, July 24.—J. D. McArthur has at the present time 7,000 men at work on his contract with the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Pacific. Large bodies of men are engaged in the Shilo and the Teton extensions, but the larger proportion of the workmen are on the line last of the city to the lake on the main line of the G. T. P. New men are being sent out to the work daily.

Laurier Keeps a Promise

Ottawa, July 24.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has not time in carrying out his promise made to the citizens of Ottawa on the night of his arrival here from England, to enquire into the reason for the delay in proceeding with the new central railway station and hotel. The promoter has had conferences with C. M. Hays and William Willoughby of the Grand Trunk, and also with Mayor Scott and expects that work will be commenced early.

The railway commission has prepared on order calling on all the companies operating in Canada to make statements as to their agreements and through tariff rates with connecting lines at certain points, and also asking them if they are willing to quote the same rates for other alternate routes, and if they are not they are asked to give reasons.

Orchard Getting It Hot

Boise, Idaho, July 24.—For two hours and a half of the morning session, Mr. Darrow produced the innocence of his client, and the impossibility of convicting him on the uncorroborated evidence of Harry Orchard, Chas. Hawley, leading counsel for the state and Harry Orchard were the figures around whom most of the storm of the morning centered. There was no attempt at reticence of attack. It was straight vice operation and angry denunciations. For two hours and a half rang the charges on Orchard's distant present and future and on Orchard he heaped every word of abuse and contempt that the least show of respect for the court would permit.

Predicts High Prices For Grain

Ottawa, July 24.—Dr. William Saunders, director of the experimental farms, has returned from his tour of inspection of Manitoba and the West.

Dr. Saunders does not share a pessimistic opinion recently published, as to the crop shortly. He says the area in which the particular failure is expected owing to the drought is a restricted one and on the whole, after a careful review of the situation he believes that there will be a three fourths crop. With wheat at its present price this will mean a larger cash return to the farmers than they received for the crop last year. Even should some of the late sown grain become frost-killed it will fetch a high price almost as high as was obtained for good wheat last season.

The population of Ottawa by the new directory is over 80,000.

Cappelli Will Hang

Ottawa, July 24.—There was a meeting of the cabinet this afternoon. An order in council was passed allowing the law to take its course in the case of Cappelli who Italian shot and killed an other Italian at the party sound in a row. Cappelli will be hanged on August 1st.

The police herded them into an agricultural hall, where they will spend the night. In the morning they will proceed to Winnipeg.

Major Clark is more proud of this puglist from Bruce than he is of another of County's notorious sons, Duncan Marshall. The Ma'orj fights have nearly all been political ones; Brusso in the ring conformed to the rules of the game; the other fellow was so given to flogging his opponents that he was compelled to quit the ring in Ontario. Under his new backer, Frank Oliver, he is displaying the same tactics in the West.

On Municipal Ownership.

(Calgary Herald)

Some interesting views on municipal ownership and the operation of public utilities expressed by Milo R. Mattie, one of a committee sent to Great Britain last year by the National Civic Federation of the United States, to observe and report on the question as presented in that country.

The reports of the members of the committee differ as to the advisability of municipal ownership, but Mr. Mattie strikes a note not usually touched in such discussions. According to the press dispatches, Mr. Mattie says that "actual ownership" and operation are not necessary for the success of the municipal ownership idea." He says the power to operate, in case of necessity in many instances has been as effective as the actual operation, and that the mere fact that the city has the power to step in and operate an undertaking often makes the exercise of this power unnecessary.

"It has been found in Great Britain that no system of control or regulation is complete without power in the hands of the municipalities to purchase and operate," says Mr. Mattie.

This is a sane and practical view of a problem concerning which much empty rhetoric is frequently printed. Experience has shown that no municipality, except by accident will ever frame an agreement with a private corporation for the use of its public franchises that will not work out to the detriment of the municipality as compared with the corporation—unless the former retains the right to purchase and operate the franchise.

Experience has also frequently shown that the existence of this right prevents the leasing of such franchises (not including water) to private companies without danger of disadvantage, and that the moral influence of the existence of such a right is sufficient to keep the private corporation in a moderate and amicable frame of mind. To this is to be added the advantage of not using the city's credit for financing such ventures, thus saving it from the financial necessities of civic expansion and improvement.

It is such a policy as this that The Herald has advocated in connection with civic telephones, and that will be found useful in other directions also.

Small Pox Spreading in Toronto

(Special to the Chronicle)

Toronto, July 25.—There are twenty five small pox patients in the city at present. The authorities are making strong efforts to put an end to the outbreak.

Grand Trunk

Winnipeg, July 24.—In well informed railway circles it is the opinion that the G. T. P. will make every effort to push the grading of the line from Edmonton to the Yellowhead Pass this summer. This will cover a distance of some 300 miles. It is believed that the first section of the line has been practically settled upon and only waits the formal approval of the government. Collingwood Schreiber, chief railway engineer for the government who has just returned from an inspection trip over the line to the Pass, will doubtless make a favorable report as to the cabin and now that the labor conditions make it possible for men to be secured there is little doubt that the construction will be undertaken on the western extension and a large portion of it if not all of the line at once covered by grading contracts.

On the Winnipeg-Edmonton section railway men who are in close touch with G. T. P. officials state that most remarkable progress has been made in grading and building of bridges and that if certain construction material, such as ties, were available, steel laying could be carried on very rapidly. As it is about a mile in length is being laid a day.

General Manager Moore and Chief Engineer Kellner are now in the far west inspecting the work that has been done recently and it is expected that when they return to Winnipeg orders will go forth for greater activity in completing the grading contracts and pushing the steel laying across the prairie, as well as the small amount of work made that contracts have been let for the portions of the Edmonton-Yellowhead Pass section.

Fort Fair Tomorrow.

Tomorrow the bright little town of Fort Saskatchewan will hold its annual fair, and many Strathcona and Edmonton people are expected to be in attendance. Every department, it is said will be on a better scale than ever before, and some new attractions have been added to the programme.

The C. N. R. have announced that they will run a special train and the fare is only half the usual fare.

Edmonton Bookkeeper Missing

Chas. A. Wood, bookkeeper for the Edmonton branch of the Great West Saddlery Co., has been missing since Monday night, and not the slightest clue to his whereabouts has been found. On Tuesday morning, Mr. Stoddard, manager of the establishment in which Wood was employed, received a letter through the mail from Wood in which the latter stated he was in the city, but was not to be seen. Stoddard, fearing the worst, immediately telephoned to the police and the latter, who had been informed that the bookkeeper was missing, immediately set out to find him. The letter was probably only a "bluff" and that Wood has left the district. The only reason known at present for his being at suicide is the fact that a missing man had been charged with having funds in the bank to cover the

CURRENT COMMENT.

The following are the respective stories of the unusually sharp that occurred on the Lacrosse grounds on Monday evening by the Strathcona reporter and the sporting reporter of the Edmonton Bulletin. The regular reporter of that paper was present and saw the smokes. His report of it is a fair and true narrative of an occurrence that everybody reports was bad enough, in all reason as it stood, without the embellishments of a common clumsy liar. The writer of sporting reports ought to be a sport, should be a gentleman and

 LACROSSE ENDS IN A FREE FIGHT

Disgraceful Scenes in a Match Last Night Between Strathcona and Edmonton.

One of the most disgraceful free fights in the history of Western lacrosse brought to a sudden termination the exhibition game played last night at the Agricultural Fair grounds in Strathcona, between the team from that city and the Capitals of Edmonton.

The occurrence which resulted in a series of brawls in different parts of the ground occurred just at the close of the third quarter of the game. The play was in close proximity to the Edmonton goal. Norman Main, Strathcona captain, was engaged in a struggle with W. Powers of Edmonton, because involved in a mixup, and were given a three-minute penalty. Main, who was clearly the aggressor, made several attempts while being let off the field by referee Stuart Hill, to attack Powers, and just as they reached the time-keepers, another fight occurred took place.

In a moment crowds of men rushed to the spot. Eddie Bolander, of Edmonton, tried to get between combatants, but to some of the Strathcona onlookers appeared to be attacking Main. Fred Richards, of Strathcona, sprang in, and while he was engaged with Bolander, McKinnon, an Edmonton player who came to the spot, rushed on him from behind and delivered three fearful blows with all his might. Bolander, uncovered head, from which blood poured over his face and coat.

Then pandemonium reigned, and for a few minutes it looked as if a riot would be the result. Sticks were freely brandished, and hand-to-hand fights were in progress on all sides. Two members of the Strathcona police force were present, but for a time they were powerless to stop the bloodshed. Eventually order was partially restored, but a few minutes later, in a distant corner of the field, a mad crowd, headed by the victor of the brutal attack, were in pursuit of McKinnon, who was being taken away by Strathcona sympathizers, when he was rescued by the police in a badly used condition.

Under the circumstances there was nothing to do but to stop the game, and this the referee did, with the score 5-3 in favor of Strathcona.

The attack made by the player McKinnon with his stick on Bandman Richards was a most brutal one and should have resulted in his immediate arrest. If such exhibitions are allowed to proceed the game of lacrosse will soon be effectively discredited in this country. Main also was to blame in continuing to provoke a quarrel after being sent off the field, but as there is some excuse for him as a player, there is none as far as could be seen last night for McKinnon's attack with his stick on a man who had nothing with which to defend himself.

The following pen picture from that well known newspaper artist, J. K. McKinnon, of the Regina Standard, strikes us as so good that it deserves an extended circulation, hence its appearance in our columns to-day.

His reference to the journey of 1881 recalls mingling feelings to our own mind, only an experience that we had by our Old Fate in 1883. We, however, made the mistake of going back and waiting the result of the day's work before returning. The intervening years were not lost, only "gone before."

Our recollection of the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba railway comes back occasionally as a dream, or more properly speaking, a nightmare, in which one fancies himself falling over a cliff and saving himself by grasping a handful of rotten straw.

The man who comes West sees, finds and gets just what he looks for. If he left home in the midst of a despairing Thomas, and blindly prejudiced in favor of the condition he left behind, he will go back dissatisfied.

might at least be able to tell the truth. The man who took Richards off Bolander has known the latter from boyhood. Richards did not use any bad instrument or any other weapon but his fists, and if Bolander had not gotten between Richards and the cheer boys from Edmonton, who like a maniac deliberately and without provocation struck him four times on the head with a lacrosse stick, he would not have been touched. When the lad gets some down on his chin he may know better. In the morning the reporter in the sporting column of the Bulletin in as much of a disgrace to journalism as the occurrence of Tuesday night was to amateur sport.

EDMONTON BULLETIN JULY 23 (Page Nine)
 PRACTICE GAME STOPS SHORT

Edmonton Player and Spectators Get Rough Handling.

The practice match between the Edmonton and Strathcona lacrosse teams across the river last night came to an inglorious finish at about three-quarter time. Not only did the game terminate unexpectedly, but it looked for a few minutes as if at least one of the Edmonton players would also come to the same untimely end as did the match.

The match started just before the third quarter ended. Powers of Edmonton, and Main of Strathcona, got into a mix-up at this stage of the game and were ruled off by referee Stuart Hill. On the way to the penalty bench Powers and Main continued to exchange compliments and by the time they were clear of the field things had arrived at a pitch where a fight occurred opened between the two.

Eddie Bolander, an Edmonton player who was out of the game on account of injuries, attempted to play the peace-maker and for his good work was attacked from behind by that quite well known leader of rough house hockey, F. Richards, who went at Bolander with his brand hand iron, causing the blood to flow from Bolander's nose, ear and head. Bob McKinnon, another Capital player, and a particular friend of Bolander's, came to his partner's rescue, landing on Richards with his stick. Then the crowd swarmed in and the McKinnon was handed kicks, punches and vile names from all the onlookers who could get within reaching distance, and for a time it looked as if the enraged populace would eat alive every Edmontonian in sight. The police finally restored order, but the game had to be called with Strathcona winning 5 to 3.

Richards' attack on Bolander was one of the most brutal and cowardly assaults ever seen on the athletic field. It was a disgrace to the game of lacrosse, and more youth from in front, but to come at him with a band instrument from behind, when he was attempting to separate the belligerents was worse than cowardly, and one can almost forgive McKinnon for coming in with a rush at Richards in the same manner that his victim went at Bolander.

The crowd's attempt to maltreat McKinnon will likely suffice to prevent further practice matches between the teams, unless Mounted Police are placed on the lines to keep the crowd in check—the Strathcona constables being unable or unwilling to preserve order last night.

Last summer we had a friend of this type call on us. He wanted to purchase a quarter section of good unimproved land. He wanted good soil, which he was entitled to, and that was that the next time would leave at 10.40 if it left. He's gone and we of the West hope to stay.

ONE OF A SORT
 The Standard is always ready to give information and counsel publicly or privately to promising settlers desiring to emigrate to the prairie provinces. But among the scores of letters of enquiry received by the editor of this paper there is now and then an epistle which shows clearly on the face of it the utter want of the enquirer. We have no time to waste on this latter class and since the appended communication is a fair specimen we will answer it for the benefit of all and sundry of that ilk.

To J. K. McKinnon, Esq.,
 Dear Sir—When I read your past Regina story, sorry to say, I did not see you. However, I had the work of my stick out against mine, home very much disgruntled and out of the place in general. I think the reason was I was up upon you there, so now I ask you to do me one sensible advice, therefore I did not get a good impression of your doctored country. I learnt with a good deal of satisfaction that you had succeeded beyond most people there, so now I ask you to give me some good advice or assistance in settling on some of the most lovely and sweet parts of that vast country. I would like to visit the country again this season.

I would like if I could, near work in which I could see the country and travel over it at the same time. I know of a lacrosse stick, he would help a fellow. Unfortunately I am short of ideas and therefore outstayed at the start. Certainly would like to try that country again, now what is your opinion generally to one so sophisticated about the matter as I am. When would you advise going out and how to go about it in the most business like manner. I have a large family to move and bring up. What trade or profession for a girl or boy is in most requisition in that part of the land? Don't think that I am asking alms at all, but I certainly need the trust and best advice and would like to appreciate same. I want to retrieve lost ground and cannot think of anyone so likely to advise authoritatively as yourself. What are the chances to succeed out there as compared with the island. I would like to do something just as soon as I arrived over there as I would like to stay the winter. What are the chances of getting remunerative employment. I am not too smart at all kinds of work as I am willing to do anything and of labor. I am not excessively hard. Would like to get in on the ground floor of some new country, would take a position in the interest of any company or company wanting an all round man. From these incoherent remarks you might perhaps learn what might be of interest to your humble friend.

This is the land of opportunity but it is useless to come merely to spend the winter. Those who possess the permanent place without false pride cannot fail of success. Those who lack ambition are physically debilitated should not come to this land of the future. This, however, will be taken as reasonably sensible though perhaps not as much as advice. It is given in all candor and with the hope that cousin Donald may profit by it.

Largest Building Stone.

The walls of the Acropolis at Athens are truly called cyclopean. The famous Trilithon, the largest stone ever used in building, measures respectively thirty-four, fifty-four and at three feet in length, each block weighing about 720 tons. How these huge stones were accurately placed in position twenty feet above the ground is a problem which modern science, with all its appliances, leaves yet unsolved. Alas! then are Arab fortifications. The quarries whence these gigantic materials were obtained are among the most interesting features of Baalbek. Here may still be seen the method of work of the ancient quarrymen, stone cutters, and the huge blocks of stone, some of which are still in the quarry. It is now used as a necropolis by the inhabitants of Baalbek. Baalbek is the largest of the three, and is the most interesting of the three.

Around the City.

The corner stone for the new Oddfellow's Temple, which is to be laid Wednesday next, is being prepared by contractor Martin and will be a work of art.

Remember the entertainment tonight
at the Presbyterian Church, Miss L.
Maude Smith, of Toronto, will recite,
and local talent will render musical selections.

Thomas and Oliver Bobolt of Spokane
Washington are visitors in the city.
Thomas is ledger keeper in the Traders
Bank there, and Oliver is a druggist.
They are making a close inspection of conditions here and expose themselves
as well pleased with what have seen.
They are bright, keen, business men and their opinions on their return will be valuable to this city and district.

B. B. Gunn, Conservative M. P. for South Huron, is a visitor in the city,
the guest of his brothers-in-law, H. Wilson, William and John Jackson. Mr. Gunn was for many years a general merchant in Sault Ste. Marie, but sold out recently and is looking over the West with the intention of making some investments. He is very favorably impressed with Strathcona and district, and says it far exceeds in present prosperity and future prospects anything he has seen elsewhere.
Mr. Gunn carried South Huron in the Conservative interest at the last election
the first time it has been of that political complexion since Confederation.
Asked as to his views on the political situation, the genial M. P. replied, "I am on holidays and besides it is too warm weather to talk politics. We get enough of that as a rule during the sessions and campaign fights."

Mr. Gunn proposes to continue his journey to the coast. Mrs. Gunn and Master Jack are accompanying him on the trip.

At the Mounted Police barracks in Edmonton to-day a man named Norman Bunk was charged with obtaining a set of harness by false pretences from the Strathcona branch of the Great West Saddlery Co. He was awarded a ticket for a two month's sojourn in Sergeant Munroe's house for star boarders.

Our Postal Troubles

(Settler Independent)

Albertans have noted with pleasure
the stand taken by the Alberta government in most cases, in regard to public necessities. The Federal Government, on the other hand, has persistently ignored or played with our repeated requests for better postal service, and at the same time plumed themselves upon their surplus in that department, while treating the West to the worst postal service extant

where the English language is spoken.
The public can, if they will, commend the situation. Americans are streaming into this neighborhood in numbers and they should insist that Canada as soon as possible, and record their vote when the time arrives in accordance with their convictions.

The Alberta Government, since they came into power, have enacted legislation that has not only made Alber-taan but those from other states proud of our government. On the other hand, the systematic ignoring of the necessities of the West in postal matters has frustrated a just hostility to the Federal Government that should be sufficient to cause them trouble, if not defeat, when next they go to the country.

FOR THE HOMEWORKER

Charming and New Effects In Openwork Embroidery.

SOLID STITCHERY AND LACE.

A Blending of English Embroidery and Hedebao Work That is Wonderfully
Adapted to Centerpieces Not Much Used Nowadays.

There is a charm about openwork effects in needlework that from the very earliest times has appealed strongly to all votaries of the craft.

The revival of English embroidery has been one of the most successful revivals of the fancy for a few effects at the hands of the embroiderers of today. Another is the so called Hedebao work, in which drawn thread plays its part in conjunction with more or less solid stitchery and fillings of lace effect, which may be suitably varied according to the taste and skill of the worker. A blending of English embroidery and Hedebao work is the most happy manner is exemplified in one of the illustrations, a nightdress sash of fine white linen, in which part of the design consists of drawn threads buttonholed over and worked with point d'esprit alternating with drawn thread work. A garland of La France roses exquisitely wrought in fine blue silk and shaded with the most delicate colors that needle painting can produce tresses itself around a mediation of fine texture, entirely carried out in cut and drawn thread worked with white silk floss. The work is so fine that it is evident the strands of

EMBROIDERY WORK AND ENGLISH EMBROIDERY, will have been divided and used two at a time at the most. There is something in the delicate and graceful about this piece which makes one feel that, though the fashion for table centers is on the decline, there are influences which need no apology for adhering to it where work like this is concerned.
